

The railroad company has been sending freight trains up the branch pretty lively lately bringing in all kinds of fuel and merchandise. There were eleven cars of fuel came in on Saturday's train and the fuel panic is a thing of the past. We venture to say that the railroad company never experienced such a seige as that of last January. Forget it.