

The armature of the electric light plant dynamo burned out last Saturday night and as a consequence the city will be without light for a few days, the company having to send in part of the machinery by express to St. Paul to get fixed up. The plant has been doing nicely this winter and this accident is no fault of the company's.