

Westley Kunzelman met with a painful accident last Sunday the outcome of which is uncertain. He was pitching bundles on a load and in so doing unbalanced himself and fell from the load between horses. The team then started up and the load passed over Kunzelman's breast and body badly using him up. No bones were broken but hemorrhages set in which were stopped by Dr. Bergstrom. It is thought that he will recover. Westley is a young man who has worked around among our farmers for several years. He is now staying at Geo. H. Lawrence's place where he is receiving excellent care.
