

The COURIER was informed last week that H. H. Reames had died at Palouse, Wash., but we have since learned that this was an error. It was a second daughter of the family that died, Esther, and Mr. Starr says that they read the dispatch as saying that father died today instead of Esther. Two girls of the Reames family have died.