

Ole Watne died at his home south of Cooperstown on Monday of this week from an attack of dropsy. He had been sick for the past three months. He was 47 years old and was a married man. The funeral was held Tuesday at the Wesley church interment being made in the cemetery at that place. Rev. H. F. Josephson conducted the funeral services.