

Wm. Steffen died last Friday from the effect of taking a dose of formaldehyde. Mr. Steffen, who was a well-to-do farmer residing six miles west of Cooperstown, had not been feeling well and it is supposed that he attempted to take some medicine and took the poison instead. He was one of the early settlers in the county and was prominent in the affairs of his township. A wife and several children survive him.