Political Announcements.

TO THE VOTERS OF GRIGGS COUNTY:

Having received the democratic nomination for county treasurer, I take this course to put my name before the people. Though I have resided in the eastern part of the county since the spring of 1880 until a little over a year ago, when I moved to Cooperstown, there are a large number of voters whose acquaintance I have not had the pleasure of making. Of these I shall try to meet as many as I conveniently can before election. If I fail to do this I hope you will think favorably of my candidacy and give me your support if you can conscientiously do so. If elected I expect to attend to the office myself.

Very respectfully yours,

C. P. BOLKAN.

"OLD SWITZER" DEAD

Jule F. Switzer died about two weeks ago at Ray, N. D., at the home of Earl Barrington, his associate in the theatrical business, of heart failure, at the age of 56 years, after an illness extending over about four weeks' duration. "Old Switzer" as he was familiarly known, has been active in his profession for 30 years, the last 22 years being spent with "The Crows," the well known company who are deservedly popular not only in our own state of North Dakota, but also South Dakota and western Minnesota. No more popular or better known actor ever appeared before the public in the abovenamed territory than he, and his personal friends are legion.

At the time of his death, Mr.
Switzer, together with Mr. Barrington, owned and managed "The Crows." He is survived by his wife and young son, Max. The body was shipped to What Cheer, Iowa, for burial.

Mr. Switzer was well known to Hannaford play-goers, he having appeared here last winter as Guldinar the Bonde in "Thelma," and in the title role in "My Uncle from India." His death will be generally regretted by all who knew him.

From Our Exchanges.

Courier: Seventy-five transient workingmen, who have been harvesting and threshing in this county, left the city on Saturday's train.
On account of the exceedingly dry spell not one day has been lost on account of rain and the threshers are through earlier than usual. The threshers have carried all the money earned out of the country with them, too.

Courier: Frank Gladstone was called to his home at Andes, N. Y., by telegram Wednesday, his father being seriously ill and not expected to live. Mr. Gladstone could not get to his home before Saturday and it is doubtful if he got there in time to see his father alive.

Sentinel: Miss Clara Greenland, assistant superintendent of schools, has been down several days with rheumatic fever and it is feared that she may not recover.

Sentinel: A representative of the Alden Publishing Co., of Chicago, is here with a view of getting out an atlas of Griggs county. We understand that he is meeting with good encouragement.

Sentinel: J. C. Flynn fell on a piece of broken glass one day last week and received a very bad cut on his hand. The hand will be disabled for a few weeks.
