The band boys serenaded Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Arneson Tuesday evening, and did very well considering the small amount of practice they have had since the busy season came on. None of them get time to even keep their lips in good condition by playing their instruments from time to time, and when the lip becomes soft and the muscles relaxed, it is a hard matter to give good service. It is to be hoped that an opportunity will be afforded the band to hold its regular meetings again in the near future, that the organization may regain the good attainments it had acquired before the meetings were discontinued. When this is once done, there is no question but that the boys will take an active interest and do all in their power to raise their standard of ability as musicians.
