

At a meeting of the citizens held Friday evening, for the purpose of adopting certain measures for the welfare of the town, the question of organizing a commercial club was quite generally discussed with the result that a temporary organization was effected, and committees appointed to look into the matter of fire protection and other matters of direct importance to the welfare of the village and its citizens. The movement is a good one and is in the right direction. There are several steps to be taken in various directions, and now that the start is made it should be followed up until all the needs of the town are supplied,
