

The fire department was hustled out Friday afternoon on account of a blaze under the blacksmith shop of A. M. Swenson, east of T. B. Moore's livery barn. However, the fire was under control when the engine arrived and the supply of chemical fluid was poured on and left no sign of fire. The blaze was started by a spark dropping thru the floor into the grass under the shop.