

is deserving of good support.

In our last issue we very carelessly omitted mention of an important social function on the part of Binford Lodge No. 77, I. O. O. F. The affair took place on Thursday night, April 5th, at which time five candidates received the initiatory degree, which, in addition to the regular routine of business gave the members a busy evening. After closing lodge all the members and their ladies banquetted at the West Hotel, where one of the most delicious spreads greeted a party thoroughly prepared for a feast.

In these days of strife between two
