

Mr. H. J. Maurer received a message Friday, stating that his sister, Mrs. L. A. Peterson, who resides near Marion, was dangerously ill. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Maurer departed on the train for Sanborn, where they procured a livery rig and drove the remainder of the distance, twenty miles to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. Upon their arrival they found Mrs. Peterson suffering intense agony and a doctor was summoned from Jamestown to attend her. She was having spasms and as the doctor arrived she was seized by a spasm, from which she was shortly rescued. From that time on a slight improvement was noticeable, and altho she was not entirely recovered by Monday morning, yet she showed favorable signs and Mr. and Mrs. Maurer returned on that day. It is hoped that Mrs. Peterson will recover from her severe illness in a short time.
