

John Maurer departed Monday, to resume his studies at Concordia College. The only thing bothering John now is his skittishness of appendicitis, which he fears as a result of overstudy.