

Hjalmer Rengvall departs today for Portal, near where he has a homestead and where he expects to locate for the future. He made this office a pleasant call Tuesday to pay his subscription to a date a long way ahead for he says that he wants the Times at all hazards. He talks sensible and he can have the Times as long as he wants it.