

Torger Rogne returned from Minneapolis, Tuesday, and states that he did not like his job as assistant shipping clerk in a sash-and-door factory. We have not learned his grievance, but think he makes a mistake in turning down the position.