

Joseph Schindele came down from the farm Thursday to take charge of the harness shop while his brother, H. J., is being treated for his affliction.