

H. S. Thompson has resigned his position with the Monarch Elevator Co., whose house he has run since early in 1905, and has accepted a position with the Farmers' Elevator Co. of Cooperstown. Now the boys have all been joshing "Holl" about the fair maiden at Cooperstown, who they thought he was making regular weekly trips to the county seat to see but you were figuring on this new job all the time, weren't you H. S.?
