
SCARLET FEVER...DIPHThERIA

Last Thursday Dr. Truscott was summoned to the home of Mrs. Carrie Thune south of town to attend her thirteen-year-old daughter Christina, who had become quite ill.

The doctor found upon examination that the girl was suffering from scarlet fever together with a diphtheretic throat. There seems to be no danger of the disease spreading as the house is under quarantine, and the patient is reported to be improving, the membrane having about disappeared from her throat. She has some fever yet, so there is still a necessity for exercising great caution by those affected by the quarantine as well as others, to prevent the spread of this dangerous disease.
