

Victor Valine, who lives four miles west of Walum, met with a very serious accident last Thursday. He was dragging on the field and stepped in front of his horses to fix something about the harness when something frightened the horses and they ran away the harrow passing over Mr. Valine, one tooth penetrating the chest and injuring the lung and one rib was broken. Dr. Westley was called to attend him and after fixing up his injuries he was brought to town and is at the Arcade Hotel and is getting along nicely.—Courier.
