
CRACK THE WHIP

Last Sunday as Carlisle Williams, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Williams, was leading a horse to the barn, the animal became fractious and began to jump and whirl round and round giving the boy a lively time at the end of the rope. But the horse naturally had the advantage and the boy was thrown from the rope and fell headlong against a wagon wheel, his eye coming in contact with the hub and tearing the lid so badly that nine stitches were required to draw it to place again. At the present time he is said to be getting along nicely.
