

A robust, little youngster was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clint Wilson last Sunday. Clint vows that the dray line will not pass outside the family, and sees himself a few years hence sitting in an easy chair as much as to say "let the kids do the work."