

Word has been received from Miss Mangen, who departed last week to be at the bedside of her sick father, to the effect that she reached home too late to see her father alive, having passed away about 24 hours before her arrival. She will return here, however, and finish her school term. Miss Mangen has the heartfelt sympathy of her many friends in Binford in the sad loss of her father.

Owing to the resignation of Frank