

Almklov-Hoiby.

When O. Almklov, accompanied by his young bride, stepped off the northbound train last Thursday and no one was on hand to greet them with a shower of rice and other evidences with which it is the custom to greet newly wedded couples, he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had successfully sprung a complete surprise on his many friends who would have been only too anxious to have given him a rousing and long-to-be-remembered reception on his return, had they only known.

The wedding took place on Wednesday, December 29, in Moorhead, Minn., and was a very quiet affair, the newly married couple returning the very next day to Hannaford.

Miss Rose Hoiby, the bride, formerly resided at Osakis, Minn. Two years ago she taught a term of school west of town, and has most of the time since been employed as a teacher in the public
