

SURPRISE PARTY

W. E. and Mrs. West were Surprised

Friday of last week was the seventh wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West.

They were enjoying their leisure hours as usual, when the merry-makers took them by surprise. The first hour was spent in a social visit, and while they were visiting some of the men were preparing the waiting room to dance in, and as soon as everything was ready the ladies were invited down and they shook their feet to the tune of Ole Thompson's violin, that sent thrills of life through the veins that flow with blood, the kind of which only old Norway can boast, and the way they knocked the floor was nothing slow.

The early hours of the evening was given over to dancing, and at the usual hour the lunch baskets were brought out and supper was served, and then then they danced until the smaa hours, after which a special programme was put on. Mike Weise in behalf of the "merry makers" presented Mr. and Mrs. West with a beautiful parlor hanging lamp, followed by a solo by Mrs. West, entitled "No not for Joe," also a duet by Mr. and Mrs. West; banjo solo and several instrumental selections by others. This was followed by the song "America" sung chorus.

Wishing Mr. and Mrs. West many happy returns of the occasion they all departed for home rejoicing over the good time they had had.
