

Henry Alfson moved in a large barn from his land east of town and located it on the rear of his residence lot and is remodeling it and making a very convenient and good looking building.