

BINFORD GETS THIRD MONEY

Local Ball Team Does Not Do Well at Cooperstown Fair Last Week.

The Griggs county fair is over and Cooperstown entertained its visitors in royal style. The attendance this year was not as large as on former occasions. The spirit seems to be dying out. A little more advertising might be a good thing.

There were some good attractions, the exhibit of the agricultural college being especially noteworthy. It showed the work of each department and was very interesting.

The ball games were the main attraction. The purses were divided as follows: 1st money, $90; 2nd money, $75; 3rd money, $50; 4th money, $35. Cooperstown and Jessie played Thursday morning, Cooperstown winning by a score of 6 to 1. Hannaford and Binford clashed in the afternoon, the former winning by a score of 4 to 0. The mighty Finnegan was in great form and held the locals to five scattered hits. Thrall and Lynch, the Dazey battery performed for Binford. Binford took the game from Jessie Friday morning—score 13 to 2. Hannaford and Cooperstown battled for first place honors in the afternoon, Hannaford winning by a score of 3 to 1. A large share of the base ball purses went to Dazey.

Hang on to Your Land.

Hang on to your North Dakota soil, says a state exchange. There is no better soil in the Patronize the Advertiser.

The consumer who knows his own interest will patronize the business man who advertises. There is an excellent reason for this, says the Milton Globe. Publicity of price naturally enhances competition and advertising is in most instances publicity of prices. The man who advertises is, in every instance, responsible for low prices. He sets the pace. He is selling cheap and wants the public to know it. It is the merchant who never advertises who sidesteps competition. He fears comparison with his competitor. He wants to be left alone. He never wants his customer to know what an article costs until he asks for the information. The purchaser naturally gets little or no enlightenment along the line of values, and is easy prey in case the merchant should be disposed to take advantage of his ignorance in this respect. Bear in mind that the merchant who advertises is your best friend and is saving you money every day in the year.

Horse Sale.

The undersigned will sell 20 horses at Gorthy's sale stable in Binford, on Saturday, July 10th, commencing at 1 o'clock p. m. 14 are mares with colts, 6 dry mares and geldings, ranging in weight from 1000 to 1200. From 3 to 6 years old.

Cash or bankable paper bearing 10 per cent. interest due November 1st. 1909.

—R. W. Wyland.

Oscar Greenland, Clerk.
F. G. Lewis, Auctioneer.

The League Standing.

	P	W	L	Pc
Binford.....	6	5	1	. 833
Dazey	6	5	1	. 833
Cooperstown.....	8	5	3	. 625
Jessie.....	6	2	4	. 333
Hannaford.....	8	1	7	. 125
McHenry.....	2	0	2	. 000

DAZEY COMING TOMORROW

Strong Barnes County Bunch and Binford Will Clash on Local Diamond Tomorrow.

Unless all signs fail the fans and fannerines of Binford and vicinity will be treated to one of the best ball games in the history of this section, on the local diamond tomorrow afternoon.

The fast Dazey bunch will be here to try to take the championship of the branch league. Both teams are even in the number of games played and won, and the battle tomorrow will be for blood. Dazey has a great pitching staff in Thrall and Finnegan. The balance of the team is made up of salaried men. Sievert will be on the mound for the locals and with fair support stands a good chance of winning his game.

The game tomorrow will be the fastest on the local diamond so turn out with two bits and your caliopes.

Hanson-Stahl Nuptials.

St. John's church at Ottofy, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Tuesday, June 29th, when Miss Mary Stahl and Melvin A. Hanson were united in marriage, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

Miss Stahl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahl, living north of town, and has a large circle of friends. Mr. Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hanson, former residents of Binford.

The Times joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy married life.

Lands for sale. Call on Andrew Dahlin & Co.