

went down Saturday.

The band gave an open air concert last Sunday, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the residents of the village. The boys are getting along in fine shape and these concerts will be a regular feature during the summer months.

A blushing young country girl