

The band is making rapid progress. The new members have made made remarkable headway for the short time they have been at it. New music has been sent for, and as soon as they have had time to look it over, the boys will give a street concert.

Farmers should make it a point