

H. J. Maurer left yesterday for Glendive, Montana, where he expects to put in the greater part of the summer. His stock and machinery was shipped out Monday, Jesse Knopf accompanying the car. "Hi" says he has turned the hotel over to new management. He has had 13 years of it, and now proposes to stay out of it—for a time at least.

(The lecturer on socialism last