

he wants us fellows in Binford to tip our hats to him. The Times scribe will keep his tipped if he brings down a few bushels now and then

C. W. Sievert, a member of the Binford ball team last year, arrived here Tuesday from the west and will do the heavy work again this season. Since leaving here last fall he spent the time in Washington, but is not much in love with that county. "Smiles" is glad to get back to God's country again, and his many friends are equally glad that he is.

The automobile used by Krogfoss in his livery business, was put out of commission for some time last week. In going down a hill near Jessie, the car run into a large stone, springing the crank shaft. The road at that place is in a deep rut making it impossible to turn out. The rain had left the road in a slippery condition, and even though the brakes were applied the car could not be stopped which resulted in the damage as stated.

Barber Petetson is threatened with blood poison in his right arm and has closed up his shop for the time being. He was hit on the forearm by a baseball during practice about two weeks ago, but thought no more of the matter, practicing with the boys many times since, until a few days ago when the arm commenced to swell, causing him considerable pain. It is hoped that his condition doesn't become more alarming and that he will soon be back attending to his work.

Hannaford Enterprise: The Monarch elevator caught fire and burned down last Thursday, the fire being discovered about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. For a while the Farmers elevator and the N. P. water tank were threatened, but with the aid of the chemical engine and a constant supply of water furnished thru the railroad company's pipes, these structures were kept drenched and thus saved from the flames. A. J. Reddelien of the Brooks Elevator Co. is now in town looking after the salvage for the insurance companies. The fire started in the top of the elevator and it is believed through a hot box.

A cement sidewalk is being laid from the corner of the West hotel to the First National bank. F. D. Cannon is the contractor. It will make a decided improvement. And while that is being made we would suggest that the debris of the pool room and restaurant fire be cleaned up. That particular spot has been an eyesore too long already, and has been the cause of a lot of unfavorable comment by outsiders. The proper authorities should see to it. Binford is going to celebrate the fourth and there sure is enough pride about us to get things cleaned up as much as possible—especially on our main thoroughfare. There is a whole lot more to a celebration besides the usual attractions for that day--so let's get up and make an impression.

Old Settlers' Notice

Please remember our annual picnic in the grove at Fluto's bridge, on June 17th, and plan to be there. Bring your lunch baskets, and let us eat our dinners together once more as in the olden days. Tea, coffee and good drinking water will be furnished. There will be good speaking, good singing and music by the band. A novel feature of the entertainment will be a tug of war between Steele and Griggs counties, across the river. Steele on the east side and Griggs on the west. All members please call upon the secretary, pay your dues and get your badges. And all old settlers who are not members come in and join us.

Oscar D. Purinton,
Secretary.
