

power to secure harvest help for the North Dakota farmers this year, and that if enough requests for help will be furnished them from the farmers of the state they will open offices in the Twin Cities to secure this assistance. Therefore, all readers of this paper who desire farm laborers for this season are requested to leave their order at the First State Bank and the matter will be taken up with the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor with a view to procuring the help desired for the harvest of this crop. It must be remembered that help is unusually scarce this year and those who secure it will be very fortunate.

Paul Paulson came up from Marion, Saturday to look after the interests of the D. S. B. Johnston Land Co. in this vicinity. He dropped into this office and incidentally remarked that he had bought the plant of the Marion Sentinel, Editor Bush formerly of that paper having removed to the Coast. Paul will now have his troubles since he has added the burdens of a publisher to his list of other troubles, so we wish him success and hope his subscribers will be prompt in cashing in.

A large crew of men are engaged here at the present time in carrying on the vast amount of improvements the railroad company is making at this point. Binford is bound to be one of the most important towns on the Northern Pacific line in this state, and people desiring to locate in a town with a most promising future are urged to between the main track and the old siding along the former site of the old depot, which was hauled from this point to Morse last Sunday. The new depot is a dandy and is a credit to the town and to the entire branch. The large well is nearing completion and the engines can take water here now so that this very important feature is now a certainty. This town is Binford and you can easily find it if you look for it.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS.

The Times has been requested to announce that a camp meeting will be held in a large tent near the Klein church, beginning on the night of Thursday, August 8, and continuing for two weeks. Three meetings will be held on each Sunday and one each night in the week during the series, and able workers from Chicago will be present to assist in the good work. It is hoped that the meetings will be well attended and that great good may result.

I'ERSON--RINDE.

Lawrence Iverson of Binford and Miss Nettie Rinde of Sharon were united in marriage at the home of the bride, Rev. Boe officiating. Miss Rinde is a very popular lady and can count her friends by the score. Mr. Iverson is a man well liked and prosperous. The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents. The Panorama joins in wishing them success through life. — Aneta Panorama.
