

A new gasoline arc light been hung up for trial on Main street. So far it seems to have given entire satisfaction, but opinions differ as to whether it will be a good light in cold weather. Other lights have been recommended, and it the opinion of the TIMES that the matter should receive careful consideration by the village authorities before investing. A good idea would be to get the experience of other towns—Aneta, it is said, has a good street lighting system.