

Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Bonebrake who came here from Huntington, Indiana, reloaded his household goods and his family is going back to Huntington. Mr. Bonebrake was unable to rent a suitable house and it being too late to build a house, such as he wanted, decided to send his family back for the winter. He, himself expects to remain for a while during the fall looking after 400 acres of crop which he has on his farm. We hope to see Mr. Bonebrake and family with us again next spring.
