

are made.

While engaged on the new Great Western elevator at Jessie, Tom Carroll fell from a scaffolding to the bottom of the bin, a distance of 25 feet, sustaining some bad injuries. He was unconscious for some time.

While plowing with a sulkey