

Charles H. Detwiler returned Saturday from a trip to Michigan, where he went to place his little girl with a family of his acquaintance. Before his return he loaded his trunk with products of the wolverine state, such as certain kinds of fruit, nuts, etc., and on his arrival here distributed them among his