

The spring stories are commencing to pour in. Gust Evers told a TIMES man yesterday morning—and it was freezing, too—that he had heard—had heard some one else say that someone else had heard a meadow lark. Gust claims he didn't see the bird but he will vouch for the honesty of the other fellow. At any rate, this is a "bird" of a story.

E. M. Jackson returned home Monday