

Ole Hanson met with a very painful though not serious accident last Monday afternoon which will lay him up for some time. He was examining a Winchester repeating shotgun and it exploded, 11 shots entering the ankle. He was brought to town and Dr. Truscott dressed the wound.