

J. J. Herlick departed last Thursday for Nampa, Idaho, where he will join his family and where he has assurances of a good position. Jack made a great many friends during his residence here. As a workman he is an expert in his line and made himself almost indispensable to his employers.