

H. J. Maurer returned last Thursday from Jamestown, where he had been on business. His mother was suffering from paralysis of the kidneys, and on his arrival there he got his first knowledge that she was ailing. The old lady is living alone and no one knew of her condition until neighbors happened in. Mr. Maurer tried to persuade her to return to Binford with him but she prefers to remain there.