

---

Fire at McHenry.

Word was received here early Saturday morning, while we were having the struggle of our lives, trying to save our own buildings, that the opera house at McHenry had burned down. The building was a magnificent structure. No other buildings were consumed, though there were others close by.

---