

Douglas McKinstry arrived here this week from Red Wing, Minnesota, with a car load of household goods, live stock, and machinery. He is storing his furniture in the city until he can make arrangements to move on to the farm in Bryan township. He expects his parents to arrive this week.