

Martin Nelson, the blacksmith had the misfortune to get his hand caught in the belt which drives the feed mill and received a broken wrist, besides having his arm badly twisted. It will be sometime before he will be able to use it.