

The editor was invited to a ride in Tom Robertson's new Jackson Tuesday and to say that we were pleased is putting it mild. The car is a beaut and is a powerful beast, taking the hills with ease and when it comes to the level roads the way we hit the turf wasn't slow. Tom is highly elated over his purchase and has already become quite a master of it. The only regret we have is that the ride didn't last longer. Anybow, we're open for more of those engagements. Now don't all speak at once.
