

Fritsy Schmidt, son of Fred Schmidt, had his arm dislocated at the elbow last Tuesday. He jumped over a snow fort which the school children had made and in so doing he missed his footing, falling in such a manner as to dislocate his arm.