

James Shaw left Tuesday for Lucca, where his wife and children are visiting. Mr. Shaw is in business at Richville, Minnesota, but the country there does not agree with him. He came here to take a job with the Dusbabek threshing outfit as separator man but got his finger broken and was compelled to give that up.