

Dr. J. R. Truscott left Monday for Prince Albert, Canada for a visit with his parents. Doc moved with his parents from New York State to Canada 18 years ago, and after staying there a year found the climate too severe and moved to Minneapolis. Since that time he has not seen his parents. His visit will, no doubt, be a very enjoyable one. He expects to return here next Monday. In the meantime Dr. Almklov of Cooperstown is attending to his practice between trains each day.
