

A pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Vogen, when a number of Ray's old time friends from down south dropped in on them last Friday night, and from reports it was genuine old fashioned surprise. Music was brought with them—things to eat was brought also. Those good farm wives down south know Ray and his ailings as a big eater is putting it mild. There was a surplus of everything and Ray has been carrying a piece of cake or cooky in his pocket ever since, and the only thing that might weary Ray, was the accident of his hired man. Those whom took part are as follows: Mr and Mrs. Jno. Ebentire; Mr. and Mrs. John Ebentire; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Weise; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hartman; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Knapp; Mr. and Mrs. Pery Remmington; E. E. Iverson and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West. The party broke up in wee smaa hours, 4 in the morning.
