

...sured of a first-class official.

James Jasme, a son-in-law of John Nerby, and who rents the latter's farm 16 miles northwest of here, was found dead on the