

Editor Sperry arrived here last Thursday from Drake, and drove across to Aneta, to attend the funeral of his mother, who died suddenly on Wednesday from a paralytic stroke. He returned to Drake Monday. The Times acknowledges a fraternal call. Editor Sperry is doing a lot of boosting for his town, and should it ever go backwards, it will be no fault of his.