

The band has resumed practice again for the winter months, and are on for three numbers at the Christmas tree exercises tomorrow night. A few of the old members are missing, which will necessitate a re-arrangement of the instrumentation.